PASTORAL OFFICES FOR DEACONS

Introduction

Deacons express the diakonia of Christ's church, an apostolic ministry as well as an expression of service. Diakonia may include prophetic witness, advocacy and empowering action, not simply giving aid but also confronting the causes of poverty, exposing structural injustice and empowering the voiceless, serving the mission of God in so doing.

This diaconal concern for God's mission of loving, healing and restoring the world expresses itself in deeply practical and pastoral ways. Thus deacons are to be found sharing with others in compassionate care for the sick, the weak and the marginalised, and in equipping other disciples for this service.

This booklet is a resource to support deacons in their ministry with those who are sick, frail, near death or in any kind of distress. In the Scottish Episcopal Church, deacons will also include those who will shortly be ordained as priests and those whose life calling it is (vocational).

The Church has always offered prayers for the sick, which have traditionally been accompanied by imposition of hands. A priest may also anoint a sick person with the oil of the sick, consecrated by the bishop for this purpose. The prayers offered by a deacon are as valid as those of a priest, and may where appropriate be accompanied by the imposition of hands. Great sensitivity is needed in touching a sick or vulnerable person, even if the deacon has been known to them for a long time. A hand should be laid gently upon the top the head or forehead, or the shoulder or hand, as appropriate in the circumstances. Affected body parts should not be touched, unless the person specifically requests this, and only if doing so would not cause pain or compromise medical care.

Deacons have since the earliest days of the Church carried consecrated eucharistic elements to Christians unable to attend public worship through illness or imprisonment. Care must be taken to ensure the security of the elements at all times. Consecrated elements may be carried in both kinds, if means are available for transportation of the wine without spillage. However, the use of wafer-breads which have been intincted (dipped) in consecrated wine, and allowed to dry before being enclosed in the pyx, may both be more convenient and more appropriate where wine may react to medication being administered to the communicant.

Care for the dying is a solemn obligation of the Church, as the transition to death and resurrection is a quite fundamental fulfilment of our faith. It is right that the priest who exercises pastoral oversight in the congregation attend the dying wherever possible, but deacons have a role in support of the person, and of their family, at times of death. The rite provided here is intended particularly for occasions when the priest is unable to be present, but in no way diminishes the assurance offered to those about to die, and to their families, of the resurrection anticipated by the faithful.

Holy Communion
from the Reserved Sacrament outside Public Worship
Laying-on of Hands of the Sick

Holy Communion from the Reserved Sacrament outside Public Worship

These forms are intended for the administration of Holy Communion to the Sick and Housebound.

Seasonal or Sunday provision may be used in place of that provided here. At Christmas, Easter and Pentecost some at least of the seasonal provision for the Festival should be used.

Holy Communion should normally be received in both kinds separately, but where necessary may be received in one kind, whether of bread or, where the communicant cannot receive solid food, wine. Alternatively, the use of wafer-breads which have been intincted (dipped) in consecrated wine, and allowed to dry before being enclosed in the pyx, may both be more convenient and more appropriate where alcohol may react to medication being administered to the communicant.

Those who cannot physically receive the sacrament are to be assured that they are partakers by faith of the body and blood of Christ and of the benefits he conveys to us by them with the use of the prayer provided.

These forms may be used in residential homes where pastorally appropriate.

It is appropriate that the deacon wear a stole when administering these rites.

Laying-on of Hands of the Sick

The Church has always offered prayers for the sick, which have traditionally been accompanied by the laying-on of hands. An ordained priest may also anoint a sick person with the oil of the sick, consecrated by the bishop for this purpose. Great sensitivity is needed in touching a sick or vulnerable person, even if the Deacon has been known to them for a long time. A hand should be laid gently upon the top the head or forehead, or the shoulder or hand, as appropriate in the circumstances. Affected body parts should not be touched, unless the person specifically requests this, and only if doing so would not cause pain or compromise medical care.

Appendix: Gospel passages

1. Penitence Matthew 9: 2–8

Some people were carrying a paralysed man lying on a bed. When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, "Take heart, son; your sins are forgiven." Then some of the scribes said to themselves, "This man is blaspheming." But Jesus, perceiving their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts?" For which is easier, to say, "Your sins are forgiven", or to say, "Stand up and walk"? But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins'—he then said to the paralytic—"Stand up, take your bed and go to your home." And he stood up and went to his home. When the crowds saw it, they were filled with awe, and they glorified God, who had given such authority to human beings.

2. Comfort Matthew 11: 25, 27–30

At that time Jesus said, "I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and the intelligent and have revealed them to infants; All things have been handed over to me by my Father; and no one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him."

"Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

3. Anointing Mark 6:7,12–13

Jesus called the twelve and began to send them out two by two, and gave them authority over the unclean spirits. So they went out and proclaimed that all should repent. They cast out many demons, and anointed with oil many who were sick and cured them.

4. Healing      Luke 8 :43–48

Now there was a woman who had been suffering from haemorrhages for twelve years; and though she had spent all she had on physicians, no one could cure her. She came up behind Jesus and touched the fringe of his clothes, and immediately her haemorrhage stopped. Then Jesus asked, "Who touched me?" When all denied it, Peter said, "Master, the crowds surround you and press in on you." But Jesus said, "Someone touched me; for I noticed that power had gone out from me". When the woman saw that she could not remain hidden, she came trembling; and falling down before him, she declared in the presence of all the people why she had touched him, and how she had been immediately healed. He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has made you well; go in peace."

5. "I am the bread of life"      John 6: 35–40

Jesus said to the crowd, "I am the bread of life. Whoever comes to me will never be hungry, and whoever believes in me will never be thirsty. But I said to you that you have seen me and yet do not believe. Everything that the Father gives me will come to me, and anyone who comes to me I will never drive away; for I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. This is indeed the will of my Father, that all who see the Son and believe in him may have eternal life; and I will raise them up on the last day."

Ministry with the Dying

Christian Ministry with the Dying is a natural continuation of the ministry of all care for God's people.

Bishop Jeremy Taylor wrote of the deeply interrelated tasks of holy living and holy dying: we should therefore remember that death might be considered an art to be learned throughout life. Death is not to be perceived as a defeat (as a careful reading of scripture will confirm). Indeed a Christian death might even be considered a kind of sacrament with plenary grace (Walter Pater, Marius the Epicurean).

Thus ministry to the dying takes place throughout all pastoral care, and is exercised in the life of prayer, confession and devotion. In confession and absolution we die to the pride of the old self, in love we die to fear, and in generosity we die to possessiveness. In the Christian life such deaths begin in baptism, when we die and rise again with Christ, so that our physical death is mirrored in our baptism and is thus the very opposite of defeat.

Care for the dying and preparation for death will normally have two points of focus, and they are deeply interrelated. There is the care for the dying person and the preparation of that person for the journey from one world into the next. There is also the care for those who watch and experience a sense of loss, often felt with a deadly and agonizing kind of desperate hope against hope that the death may be averted. Mourning frequently does not begin after the actual death, but starts long before, for example, in the case of dementia where normal human recognition and contact has long been lost. The "loss" of the loved one might long precede actual death.

Jeremy Taylor writes at length of the pastoral need for an exercise against despair in the day of our death. Very often the fear surrounding an impending death relates not so much to the terror of the unknown as to the workings of a conscience seeking forgiveness and reconciliation with God. Ministry to the dying should therefore be exercised in profound and loving honesty – which can be very hard. It is better to be frank when death is close (and the dying person frequently knows when this is better than anyone) and to allow space and make invitation for confession, using the structures of liturgical provision for absolution. Structuring – at what can be a very confused, messy, and emotionally charged time – is important and reassuring, and listening is often the most important component, even more than anything actually said.

In dying, each case is different and there can be no set pattern in the end, which is not to say that there should be no structure to the process. At the hour of death the concern is with healing of pain – physical, emotional, social, and spiritual – rather than cure (the pursuit of which may be a fruitless and even destructive distraction), and healing is possible even in death, consonant with the Christian hope of transformation at the moment of the journey from this world into the next.

The role of silence, as in all worship, may be crucial. Simply to be present, patiently, may be the most important role of the minister, and to give time after the event of a death for the family and friends to absorb the new situation. Mourning often begins long before a bereavement and may continue long afterwards, but to allow it a proper course is a crucial element in healing.

In conclusion, let us consider the closing words of Taylor in his work on Holy Dying, that no judgments be made:

Let us lay our hands upon our mouth, and adore the mysteries of the Divine wisdom and providence, and pray to God to give the dying rest and pardon, and to ourselves grace to live well, and the blessing of a holy and happy death (Jeremy Taylor, Rules and Exercise of Holy Dying, 1651).

At the end of either Litany, the following prayer may be used.

In darkness and in light, in trouble and in joy, help us, O God, to trust your love, to seek your purpose, and to praise your name; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Other Prayers may be used.

For the dying

a) Blessed Jesus, in your last agony you commended your spirit to your Father. We seek your mercy for N., and all who are dying. May death become for them, as it was for you, a birth to everlasting life. Receive those whom we commend to you with the blessed assurance that whether we wake or sleep, we remain with you, one God, for ever.

Amen.

b) Deliver your servant, N., O Sovereign Lord Christ, from all evil, and set him free from every bond; that he may rest with all your saints in your eternal kingdom; where with the Father and the Holy Spirit you live and reign, one God, for ever and ever.

Amen.

For one who is unconscious

Merciful God, in your love and wisdom you know the needs and fears of your people before we can name them. Grant that N. and we who watch with her/him may be enabled to surrender all her/his cares to you, as you care for her/him. Give her/him peace of mind and unshakable trust in you; through Jesus Christ our Redeemer.

Amen.

For protection

Christ, light of light, brightness indescribable, the Wisdom, power and glory of God, the Word made flesh: you overcame the forces of Satan, redeemed the world, then ascended again to the Father. Grant N., we pray, in this tarnished world, the shining of your splendour. Send your Archangel Michael to defend her/him, to guard her/his going out and coming in, and to bring her/him safely to your presence, where you reign in the one holy and undivided Trinity, to ages of ages.

Amen.

For those who fear losing hope

God of Love, inspire by your Holy Spirit those who are afraid of losing hope, especially N. for whom we now pray: give her/him a fresh vision of your love, that s/he may find again what s/he fears s/he has lost; and grant her/him your powerful deliverance; through the One who makes all things new, Jesus Christ our Redeemer.

Amen.

For release

Blessed Jesus, Living Water, Solid Rock: uphold your child N.; loose the fetters of sickness, break her/his yoke of pain, and from this land of affliction, lead her/him home.

Amen.

When treatment is to be discontinued

a) Holy God, whose peace passes all understanding: we pray that in your good time you will free N. from all earthly cares, pardon her/his sins, release her/him from pain, and grant that s/he may come to dwell with all your saints in everlasting glory, for the sake of Jesus Christ.

Amen.

b) God our Creator and Sustainer, receive our prayers for N. We thank you for the love and companionship we have shared with her/him. Give us grace now to accept the limits of human healing as we commend her/him to your merciful care. Strengthen us, we pray, in this time of trial and help us to continue to serve and care for one another; through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Amen.

In a time of difficult decision

a) Lord of all wisdom and source of all life, we come before you as we struggle with decisions about life and death that rightly belong to you alone. We confess that we act with uncertainty now. Give us your help, and guide us, merciful God, in your loving concern for N. who lies in grave illness; through Jesus Christ our Redeemer.

Amen.

b) God our Wisdom: bless the decisions we have made in hope, in sorrow, and in love; that as we place our whole trust in you, our choices and our actions may be encompassed by your perfecting will; through Jesus Christ who died and rose for us.

Amen.

Prayers by a Dying Person

For Serenity

a) Merciful Jesus, you are my guide, the joy of my heart, the author of my hope, and the object of my love. I come seeking refreshment and peace. Show me your mercy, relieve my fears and anxieties, and grant me a quiet mind and an expectant heart, that by the assurance of your presence I may learn to abide in you, who is my Lord and my God.

Amen.

b) Jesus, let your mighty calmness lift me above my fears and frustrations. By your deep patience, give me tranquillity and stillness of soul in you. Make me in this, and in all, more and more like you.

Amen.

A Prayer of Comfort in God

God, you are my help and comfort; you shelter and surround me in love so tender that I may know your presence with me, now and always.

Amen.

In desolation

O God, why have you abandoned me? Though you have hidden your face from me, still from this dread and empty place, I cry to you, who have promised me that underneath are your everlasting arms.

Amen.

After diagnosis of terminal illness

O God, only you number my days. Help me to look bravely at the end of my life in this world, while trusting in my life in the next. Journey with me toward my unexplored horizon where Jesus my Saviour has gone before.

Amen.

In pain

As Jesus cried out on the cross, I cry out to you in pain, O God my Creator. Do not forsake me. Grant me relief from this suffering and preserve me in peace; through Jesus Christ my Saviour, in the power of the Holy Spirit.

Amen.

it is so high that I cannot attain to it.

where can I flee from your presence?

- 7 If I climb up to heaven, you are there;*
if I make the grave my bed, you are there also.
- 8 If I take the wings of the morning* and your right hand hold me fast.

- 10 If I say, 'Surely the darkness will cover me,* and the light around me turn to night,'
- 11 Darkness is not dark to you;
the night is as bright as the day;*
darkness and light to you are both alike.
- 12 For you yourself created my inmost parts,*
you knit me together in my mother's womb.
- 13 I will thank you because I am marvellously made;*
your works are wonderful, and I know it well.
- 14 My body was not hidden from you,*
while I was being made in secret and woven in the depths of the earth.
- 15 Your eyes beheld my limbs, yet unfinished in the womb;
all of them were written in your book;*
they were fashioned day by day, when as yet there was none of them.
- 16 How deep I find your thoughts, O God!*
how great is the sum of them!

17 If I were to count them, they would be more in number than the sand;*
to count them all, my life span would need to be like yours.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son,
and to the Holy Spirit;*
as it was in the beginning is now*
and shall be for ever.

Appendix II: Readings for use at Section 5

From the Old Testament

Isaiah 49:14-16a                      I will not forget you

But Zion said, 'The Lord has forsaken me, my Lord has forgotten me.'
Can a woman forget her nursing-child, or show no compassion for the child of her womb?
Even these may forget,
yet I will not forget you.
See, I have inscribed you on the palms of my hands;
your walls are continually before me.

Isaiah 65:17-20                      I am about to create new heavens and a new earth

For I am about to create new heavens and a new earth;
the former things shall not be remembered or come to mind.
But be glad and rejoice for ever in what I am creating;
for I am about to create Jerusalem as a joy,
and its people as a delight.
I will rejoice in Jerusalem,
and delight in my people;
no more shall the sound of weeping be heard in it,
or the cry of distress.
No more shall there be in it an infant that lives but a few days, or an old person who does not live out a lifetime;
for one who dies at a hundred years will be considered a youth, and one who falls short of a hundred will be considered accursed.

Psalm 23

The Lord is my Shepherd

- 1 The Lord is my shepherd;*
I shall not be in want.
- 2 He makes me lie down in green pastures*
and leads me beside still waters.
- 3 He revives my soul*
and guides me along right pathways for his name's sake.
- 4 Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I shall fear no evil;*
for you are with me;
your rod and your staff, they comfort me.
- 5 You spread a table before me in the presence of those who trouble me;*
you have anointed my head with oil, and my cup is running over .
- 6 Surely your goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life,* and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Psalm 103

Bless the Lord, O my soul

- 1 Bless the Lord, O my soul,*
and all that is within me, bless his holy name.
- 2 Bless the Lord, O my soul,*
and forget not all his benefits.
- 3 He forgives all your sins*
and heals all your infirmities;

- 4 He redeems your life from the grave*
and crowns you with mercy and loving-kindness;
- 5 He satisfies you with good things,*
and your youth is renewed like an eagle's .
- 6 The Lord executes righteousness*
and judgement for all who are oppressed.
- 7 He made his ways known to Moses* and his works to the children of Israel.
- 8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercy,*
slow to anger and of great kindness.
- 9 He will not always accuse us,*
nor will he keep his anger for ever.
- 10 He has not dealt with us according to our sins,*
nor rewarded us according to our wickedness.
- 11 For as the heavens are high above the earth,*
so is his mercy great upon those who fear him.
- 12 As far as the east is from the west,*
so far has he removed our sins from us.
- 13 As a father cares for his children,*
so does the Lord care for those who fear him.
- 14 For he himself knows whereof we are made;*
he remembers that we are but dust.
- 15 Our days are like the grass;*
we flourish like a flower of the field;

- 16 When the wind goes over it, it is gone,* and its place shall know it no more.
- 17 But the merciful goodness of the Lord endures for ever on those who fear him,* and his righteousness on children's children;
- 18 On those who keep his covenant*
and remember his commandments and do them.
- 19 The Lord has set his throne in heaven,* and his kingship has dominion over all.
- 20 Bless the Lord, you angels of his,
you mighty ones who do his bidding,* and hearken to the voice of his word.
- 21 Bless the Lord, all you his hosts,* you ministers of his who do his will.
- 22 Bless the Lord, all you works of his,
in all places of his dominion;*
bless the Lord, O my soul.

From the New Testament

Romans 6: 3-4, 8-11      Death no longer has dominion

Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? Therefore we have been buried with him by baptism into death, so that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, so we too might walk in newness of life. But if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. We know that Christ, being raised from the dead, will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him. The death he died, he died to sin, once for all; but the life he lives, he lives to God. So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus.

Romans 8: 35, 38-39      Who will separate us from the love of Christ?

Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Will hardship, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

1 Corinthians 15: 51-58      I will tell you a mystery!

Listen, I will tell you a mystery! We will not all die, but we will all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. For this perishable body must put on imperishability, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When this perishable body puts on imperishability, and this mortal body puts on immortality, then the saying that is written will be fulfilled:

‘Death has been swallowed up in victory.’

‘Where, O death, is your victory?

Where, O death, is your sting?’

The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Therefore, my beloved, be steadfast, immovable, always excelling in the work of the Lord, because you know that in the Lord your labour is not in vain.

From the Gospels

John 14: 1-3

In my Father's house

Jesus said, 'Do not let your hearts be troubled. Believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house there are many dwelling-places. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, so that where I am, there you may be also.'
