PASTORAL OFFICES FOR PRIESTS

Introduction

The Church has a particular responsibility to care for those of its members who are sick, frail, in any kind of distress, or near death. This responsibility falls primarily to the priest who has pastoral oversight in the particular congregation, but may be shared with other priests. Deacons have since earliest times shared in the care of the sick, the weak, and the marginalised. Family, friends, and neighbours have always formed a community around those in need, and the Church recognises and must support their role. Lay people have increasingly shared in the ministry traditionally exercised by deacons, and those who exercise particular responsibilities in our congregations are authorised by the bishop of the diocese in the name of the Church. This ministry is carried out alongside that of the priest who has pastoral oversight, and of any assisting priest who may be available, and is not a substitute for the ministry of the ordained. (Separate booklets provide the form of Pastoral Offices which deacons and lay ministers are authorised to use, under the oversight of the priest instituted to the cure of souls, and in conjunction with any guidance issued by the bishop of the diocese.) This present booklet is specifically for the use of priests, and includes material reserved to bishops and presbyters.

The Church has always offered prayers for the sick, which have traditionally been accompanied by the laying-on of hands. An ordained priest may also anoint a sick person with the oil of the sick, consecrated by the bishop for this purpose. Great sensitivity is needed in touching a sick or vulnerable person, even if the minister has been known to them for a long time. A hand should be laid gently upon the top the head or forehead, or the shoulder or hand, as appropriate in the circumstances. Affected body parts should not be touched, unless the person specifically requests this, and only if doing so would not cause pain or compromise medical care. When oil is used for anointing, this should be in the form of the cross on the forehead.

Deacons have since the earliest days of the Church carried consecrated eucharistic elements to Christians unable to attend public worship through illness or imprisonment. This role is now shared by authorised lay ministers, who always act as representatives of the congregation, so that the sick and frail remain integral to the eucharistic community. Care must be taken to ensure the security of the elements at all times. Consecrated elements may be carried in both kinds, if means are available for transportation of the wine without spillage. However, the use of wafer-breads which have been intincted (dipped) in consecrated wine, and allowed to dry before being enclosed in the pyx, may both be more convenient and more appropriate where alcohol may react to medication being administered to the communicant. In addition to administering Communion from the reserved sacrament, a priest may celebrate the Eucharist in the home of the sick person, and an appropriate rite is provided for this purpose.

Care for the dying is a solemn obligation of the Church, as the transition to death and resurrection is a fundamental fulfilment of our faith. It is right that the priest who exercises pastoral oversight in the congregation attend the dying wherever possible, but deacons and lay people continue to have a role in support of the person, and of their family, at times of death. The rite provided here is reserved to priests, and includes rites for absolution of sin and anointing, as well as final Communion (viaticum).

Reconciliation of a Penitent

(Sacrament of Penance, or Confession)

Two Biblical texts offer us rich resources for a theology of reconciliation. Psalm 51 (Miserere mei, Deus) begins by distinguishing three different kinds of sin (translated as “offences”, “wickedness” and “sin” in the Daily Prayer psalter) which are matched with three different Hebrew verbs of cleansing or forgiving (“blot out”, “wash” and “cleanse”). The Psalm takes sin, both individual and corporate, with the utmost seriousness: its effect is to defile a person and damage the wider community, requiring both an inner and an outer act of confession and reconciliation. As the Psalm progresses, two other things become clear: the act of forgiveness is nothing less than a new creation (“create in me a clean heart, O God”), in which God does the impossible and brings a new future out of the horror of sin. And the Holy Spirit is the agent of this new creation (“take not your Holy Spirit from me”).

In St John’s account of the first Easter evening, the understanding of reconciliation as a new creation is even clearer. The risen Christ breathes on his disciples and says Receive the Holy Spirit – the link with the Spirit hovering over the dark chaos in Genesis 1 is unmistakable – if you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained (John 20: 22–3). A daunting responsibility rests on the priest, although it is clear that it is the response of the recipients of the message which must determine whether their sins are forgiven or not. But there is something far more important: the gift of the Holy Spirit granted at ordination authorizes us to offer, in the name of the risen Christ, the life-changing reality of forgiveness to those willing to accept it. And that reality is a new start, a new creation: God can and does use all of ourselves, including our petty and embarrassing sins and failures, as the raw material for renewing the world. And only a God who suffers directly because of our sins has the power to forgive them. But if we are to be worthy of the commission entrusted to us, we must begin with ourselves: in his spiritual classic Asking the Fathers (SPCK Classics 2010), Aelred Squire put it like this: We are only fit to be in charge of others when we have freed ourselves from our own inner compulsive drives. Forgiveness depends on how each of us answers the question Jesus put to the man at the Bethzatha pool: Do you want to be made well? (John 5: 6).

1 Introduction

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Penitent:

Amen.

The priest and penitent together say one of the following prayers.

Almighty God, to whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hidden: cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of your Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love you, and worthily magnify your holy name; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Have mercy on me, O God, according to your loving-kindness; in your great compassion blot out my offences. Wash me through and through from my wickedness and cleanse me from my sin. Create in me a clean heart, and renew a right spirit within me.

from Psalm 51

The priest says

May God, who has enlightened every heart, help you to know your sins and trust in the mercy promised in Christ.

Penitent:

Amen.

2 The Word of God

The priest may read a text of Scripture which proclaims God's mercy, call to repentance, and forgiveness.

e.g. 1 John 1: 6–9

If we say that we have fellowship with God while we are walking in darkness, we lie and do not do what is true; but if we walk in the light as he himself is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin.] If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he who is faithful and just will forgive us our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

3 The Confession of Sins

The priest says,

The Lord be in your heart and on your lips that you may truly and humbly confess your sins.

The penitent confesses using one of the following forms.

A God our Father, I confess to you that I have sinned in thought, word and deed, and in what I have failed to do; especially.

Here the penitent confesses in their own words, and concludes by saying,

I am truly sorry. Forgive me my sins, and deliver me from the power of evil, for the sake of your Son who died for us, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

B I confess to Almighty God, and to you, that I have sinned by my own fault in thought, word, and deed, in things done and left undone; especially.

Here the penitent confesses in their own words, and concludes by saying,

For these and all other sins which I cannot now remember, I am truly sorry. I pray God to have mercy on me. I firmly intend amendment of life, and I humbly beg forgiveness of God and the Church, and of you, counsel, direction, and absolution.

The priest may then give comfort, counsel and direction.

4 The Absolution

The priest then uses one of the following forms to declare absolution.

Our Lord Jesus Christ, who has left power to his Church to absolve all sinners who truly repent and believe in him, of his great mercy forgive you all your offences; and by his authority committed to me, I absolve you from all your sins: in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.

Penitent:
Amen.

God, the Father of mercies, through the death and resurrection of his Son has reconciled the world to himself and sent the Holy Spirit among us for the forgiveness of sins; through the ministry of the Church God gives you pardon and peace; I absolve you from all your sins in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.

Penitent:
Amen.

5 Comfortable Words

One or more of the 'Comfortable Words' may be used.

Hear the words of comfort our Saviour Christ says to all who truly turn to him: Come to me, all who labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

Matthew 11: 28

God so loved the world that he gave his only-begotten Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life.

John 3: 16

Hear what Saint Paul says:

This saying is true, and worthy of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.

1 Timothy 1: 15

Hear what Saint John says:

If anyone sins, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous; and he is the expiation for our sins.

1 John 2: 1, 2

6 Conclusion

Both the priest and penitent together say the Lord's Prayer. The priest and penitent together may say The General Thanksgiving.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name, your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as in heaven. Give us today our daily bread. Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us. Do not bring us to the time of trial but deliver us from evil. For the kingdom, the power and the glory are yours, now and for ever. Amen.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name; thy kingdom come; thy will be done; on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

The General Thanksgiving

Almighty God, Father of all mercies, we give you thanks for all your goodness and loving kindness. We bless you for our creation, preservation, and all the blessings of this life; but above all for your love in the redemption of the world by our Lord Jesus Christ, for the means of grace, and for the hope of glory. And give us, we pray, such a sense of all your mercies that our hearts may be thankful, and that we show forth your praise, not only with our lips, but in our lives, by giving up ourselves to your service, and by walking before you in holiness and righteousness all our days; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom, with you and the Holy Spirit, be all honour and glory, for ever and ever.
Amen.

The Priest then says

The Lord has put away all your sins.

Penitent:

Thanks be to God.

The Priest concludes

Go in peace, and pray for me, a sinner.

Appendix: Alternative readings for use at section 2

1. Isaiah 53: 4–6

It was our infirmities that he bore, our sufferings that he endured, While we thought of him as stricken, as one smitten by God and afflicted. But he was pierced for our offenses, crushed for our sins, Upon him was the chastisement that makes us whole, by his stripes we were healed. We had all gone astray like sheep, each following his own way; But the Lord laid upon him the guilt of us all.

2. Ezekiel 11: 19–20

I will give them a new heart and put a new spirit within them; I will remove the stony heart from their bodies, and replace it with a natural heart, so that they will live according to my statutes, and observe and carry out my ordinances; they shall be my people and I will be their God.

3. Matthew 6: 14–15

If you forgive others their transgressions, your heavenly Father will forgive you. But if you do not forgive others, neither will your Father forgive your transgressions.

4. Mark 1: 14–15

After John had been arrested, Jesus came to Galilee proclaiming the gospel of God: “This is the time of fulfilment. The kingdom of God is at hand. Repent, and believe in the gospel.”

5. Luke 6: 31–38

Do to others as you would have them do to you. For if you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? Even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? Even sinners do the same. If you lend money to those from whom you expect repayment, what credit (is) that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, and get back the same amount. But rather, love your enemies and do good to them, and lend expecting nothing back; then your reward will be great and you will be children of the Most High, for he himself is kind to the ungrateful and the wicked. Be merciful, just as (also) your Father is merciful. “Stop judging and you will not be judged. Stop condemning and you will not be condemned. Forgive and you will be forgiven. Give and gifts will be given to you; a good measure, packed together, shaken down, and overflowing, will be poured into your lap. For the measure with which you measure will in return be measured out to you.”

6. Luke 15: 1–7

The tax collectors and sinners were all drawing near to listen to him, but the Pharisees and scribes began to complain, saying, “This man welcomes sinners and eats with them.” So to them he addressed this parable. “What man among you having a hundred sheep and losing one of them would not leave the ninety-nine in the desert and go after the lost one until he finds it? And when he does find it, he sets it on his shoulders with great joy and, upon his arrival home, he calls together his friends and neighbours and says to them, ‘Rejoice with me because I have found my lost sheep.’ I tell you, in just the same way there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous people who have no need of repentance.”

7. Romans 5: 8–9

But God proves his love for us in that while we were still sinners Christ died for us. How much more then, since we are now justified by his blood, will we be saved through him from the wrath.

8. Ephesians 5: 1–2

So be imitators of God, as beloved children, and live in love, as Christ loved us and handed himself over for us as a sacrificial offering to God for a fragrant aroma.

9. Colossians 1: 12–14

Give thanks to the Father, who has made you fit to share in the inheritance of the holy ones in light. He delivered us from the power of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of his beloved Son, in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

10. Colossians 3: 8–10, 12–17

But now you must put them all away: anger, fury, malice, slander, and obscene language out of your mouths. Stop lying to one another, since you have taken off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed, for knowledge, in the image of its creator. Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, heartfelt compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience, bearing with one another and forgiving one another, if one has a grievance against another; as the Lord has forgiven you, so must you also do. And over all these put on love, that is, the bond of perfection. And let the peace of Christ control your hearts, the peace into which you were also called in one body. And be thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, as in all wisdom you teach and admonish one another, singing psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs with gratitude in your hearts to God. And whatever you do, in word or in deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

Holy Communion

from the Reserved Sacrament

outside Public Worship

Laying-on of Hands and Anointing of the Sick

Holy Communion from the Reserved Sacrament outside Public Worship

These forms are for the administration of Holy Communion to the Sick and Housebound.

Prayers of Penitence and Forgiveness may be omitted when the service has been preceded by the rite for the Reconciliation of a Penitent.

Seasonal or Sunday provision may be used in place of that provided here. At Christmas, Easter and Pentecost some at least of the seasonal provision for the Festival should be used.

Holy Communion should normally be received in both kinds separately, but where necessary may be received in one kind, whether of bread or, where the communicant cannot receive solid food, wine. Alternatively, the use of wafer-breads which have been intincted (dipped) in consecrated wine, and allowed to dry before being enclosed in the pyx, may both be more convenient and more appropriate where alcohol may react to medication being administered to the communicant.

The baptised who cannot physically receive the sacrament are to be assured that they are partakers by faith of the body and blood of Christ and of the benefits he conveys to us by them with the use of the prayer provided.

These forms may be used in residential homes where pastorally appropriate.

Laying-on of Hands and Anointing of the Sick

Are any among you sick? They should call for the elders [presbyters] of the church and have them pray over them, anointing them with oil in the name of the Lord. The prayer of faith will save the sick, and the Lord will raise them up; and anyone who has committed sins will be forgiven.

(James 5: 14–15)

The Church has always offered prayers for the sick, which have traditionally been accompanied by the laying-on of hands. An ordained priest may also anoint a sick person with the oil of the sick, consecrated by the bishop for this purpose. Great sensitivity is needed in touching a sick or vulnerable person, even if the minister has been known to them for a long time. A hand should be laid gently upon the top the head or forehead, or the shoulder or hand, as appropriate in the circumstances. Affected body parts should not be touched, unless the person specifically requests this, and only if doing so would not cause pain or compromise medical care.

The anointing of the sick is administered to bestow a special grace on the Christian experiencing the difficulties of grave illness or old age. Each time a Christian falls seriously ill, they may receive the anointing of the sick, and also when, after they have received it, the illness worsens. It is appropriate to receive anointing before a serious operation.

Only priests (presbyters and bishops) perform the anointing of the sick, since it is both a blessing and also imparts the forgiveness of sins. The essential elements of the anointing of the sick are composed of the anointing of the forehead of the sick person, in the form of a cross, the anointing being accompanied by the liturgical prayer asking for the special grace of this sacramental act. It is most appropriate that the priest dip a thumb in the oil stock, and make the sign of the cross therewith, rather than pouring the oil.

Amen.

Eucharistic Prayer suitable for use outside Public Worship

If it is desirable for the Eucharist to be celebrated with those who are unable to come to church, either the Shorter or the Longer form for Holy Communion outside Public Worship may be used with the Eucharistic Prayer below, or with any of the five Eucharistic Prayers in the Scottish Liturgy 1982.

In either form, the Eucharistic Prayer immediately precedes the Lord's Prayer.

Eucharistic Prayer

The Opening prayer, Sanctus and Benedictus may be omitted

The Lord be with you.

And also with you.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them to the Lord.

Let us give thanks to the Lord our God

It is right to give him thanks and praise.

Worship and praise belong to you, Father,
in every place and at all times.

You created the heavens and established the earth;
you sustain in being all that is.

In Christ your Son our life and yours are brought together in a wonderful exchange.

Through your Holy Spirit you call us to new birth in a creation restored by love.

As children of your redeeming purpose
we offer you our praise,
with angels and archangels
and the whole company of heaven,
singing the hymn of your unending glory:

Holy, holy, holy Lord,
God of power and might.
Heaven and earth are full of your glory.
Hosanna in the highest.

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.
Hosanna in the highest.

Glory and thanksgiving be to you,
most loving Father,
for the gift of your Son,
who, on the night when he was given up to death,
at supper with his disciples
took bread and offered you thanks.
He broke the bread,
and gave it to them, saying:
'Take, eat. This is my Body: it is broken for you.'
After supper, he took the cup,
he offered you thanks,
and gave it to them saying:
'Drink this, all of you.
This is my Blood of the new covenant;
it is poured out for you, and for all,
that sins may be forgiven.
Do this in remembrance of me.'
We now obey your Son's command.
We recall his blessed passion and death,
his glorious resurrection and ascension;
and we look for the coming of his Kingdom.
Made one with him, we offer you these gifts
and with them ourselves,
a single, holy, living sacrifice.

Send your Holy Spirit upon us
and upon this bread and this wine, that, overshadowed by his life-giving power,
they may be the Body and Blood of your Son, and we may be kindled with the fire of your love and renewed for the service of your Kingdom.
May we grow together in unity and love until at last, in your new creation, we enter into our heritage.

Through Jesus Christ our Lord,
with whom, and in whom,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
all honour and glory be to you,
Lord of all ages,
world without end.

Amen.

Longer form

Sections marked † may be omitted.

1 Greeting

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Amen.

or

Peace be to this place and to all who dwell here.

Amen.

2 Collect for Purity †

Almighty God,
to whom all hearts are open,
all desires known,
and from whom no secrets are hidden:
cleanse the thoughts of our hearts
by the inspiration of your Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love you and worthily magnify your holy name;
through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

3 Penitence and Forgiveness

If Laying-on of Hands is to be administered, Penitence and Forgiveness takes place at section 8.

If any communicant wishes to make a confession of particular sins, the order for Reconciliation of a Penitent, sections 1 to 4, should be used in private after the Greeting.

If communicants other than the penitent(s) are present, the service continues with section 4.

Let us confess our sins in penitence and faith.

Silence

God our Father, we confess to you

7 Intercessions

Prayer is offered for the world and its people, for those who suffer and those in need, for the Church and its members.

The intercessions should include prayer for those who celebrate the Eucharist at the church where the elements were consecrated, in these or similar words:

We pray for those who celebrate the Eucharist at ... (here naming the church where the elements were consecrated), with whom we now share in communion through this consecrated bread and wine.

The intercessions may end with the following prayer.

O Lord our God, Source of all goodness and love: accept the prayers of your people; and in the multitude of your mercies look with compassion upon all who turn to you for help; for you are gracious, O lover of souls, and to you we give glory, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, world without end.

Amen.

8 Penitence and Forgiveness with Laying-on of Hands†

If the sick person wishes to make a confession of particular sins, the rite for Reconciliation of a Penitent, sections 1 to 4, should be used in private after the Greeting.

If communicants other than the sick person are present, the service then continues with the following general form of Penitence and Forgiveness for all present. Otherwise move to section 8 B.

A Prayers of Penitence and Forgiveness

Let us confess our sins in penitence and faith.

Silence

God our Father, we confess to you and to our fellow members in the Body of Christ that we have sinned in thought, word and deed, and in what we have failed to do.

We are truly sorry.

Forgive us our sins,

and deliver us from the power of evil.
For the sake of your Son who died for us,
Jesus Christ, our Lord.

The priest says

God, who is both power and love,
forgive you and free you from your sins,
heal and strengthen you by the Holy Spirit,
and raise you to new life in Christ our Lord.
Amen.

B Laying-on of Hands and Anointing

that you may know the healing power of his love.
Amen.

At the Anointing:

N., I anoint you with oil in the name of the Father,
and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.
Amen.

As you are outwardly anointed with this holy oil,
so may our heavenly Father grant you
the inward anointing of the Holy Spirit;
of his great mercy, may God forgive you your sins,
release you from suffering,
and restore you to wholeness and strength;
may he deliver you from all evil,
preserve you in all goodness,
and bring you to everlasting life;
through Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.

9 Lord's Prayer

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name, your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as in heaven. Give us today our daily bread. Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us. Do not bring us to the time of trial but deliver us from evil. For the kingdom, the power and the glory are yours, now and for ever. Amen.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name; thy kingdom come; thy will be done; on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

10 Communion Song †

Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world:
have mercy on us.

Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world:
have mercy on us.

At the giving of the cup:

The Blood of Christ shed for you. Amen.

At the giving of both kinds together (when the bread is intincted in the wine):

The Body and Blood of Christ. Amen.

If a communicant is unable to eat and drink, the minister may pray, using these or similar words.

God of infinite mercy, we thank you for Jesus our Saviour, who feeds us and gives us eternal life. Though N. cannot consume these gifts of bread and wine, we thank you that s/he has received the sacrament of Christ's presence, the forgiveness of sins, and all other benefits of his passion. Grant that we may continue for ever in the Risen Life of our Saviour, who with you and the Holy Spirit, lives and reigns, one God, now and for ever.

Amen.

12 Sentence

Give thanks to the Lord, for he is gracious:

And his mercy endures for ever.

Psalm 118: 1

13 Prayers

One of the following, or another appropriate prayer, is said.

- a) Father, we have broken the bread which is Christ's body, we have tasted the wine of his new life: we thank you for these gifts by which we are made one in him and drawn into that new creation which is your will for all the world; through him who died for us and rose again, your Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ.

Amen.

b) Father of all, we give you thanks and praise that when we were still far off you met us in your Son and brought us home; dying and living, he declared your love, gave us grace, and opened the gate of glory: may we who share Christ's body live his risen life; we who drink his cup bring life to others; we whom the Spirit lights, give light to the world. Keep us firm in the hope you have set before us, so we and all your children shall be free, and the whole earth live to praise your name; through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

c) Father, your steadfast purpose is the completion of all things in your Son: may we who have received the pledges of the kingdom, live by faith, walk in hope and be renewed in love, until the world reflects your glory and you are all in all; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

14 The Blessing

The blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, be with you and remain with you always.

Amen.

Appendix: Gospel passages

1. Penitence     Matthew 9: 2–8

Some people were carrying a paralysed man lying on a bed. When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, "Take heart, son; your sins are forgiven." Then some of the scribes said to themselves, "This man is blaspheming." But Jesus, perceiving their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts?" For which is easier, to say, "Your sins are forgiven", or to say, "Stand up and walk"? But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins'—he then said to the paralytic—"Stand up, take your bed and go to your home." And he stood up and went to his home. When the crowds saw it, they were filled with awe, and they glorified God, who had given such authority to human beings.

2. Comfort     Matthew 11: 25, 27–30

At that time Jesus said, "I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and the intelligent and have revealed them to infants; All things have been handed over to me by my Father; and no one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal him."

"Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

3. Anointing     Mark 6: 7, 12–13

Jesus called the twelve and began to send them out two by two, and gave them authority over the unclean spirits. So they went out and proclaimed that all should repent. They cast out many demons, and anointed with oil many who were sick and cured them.

4. Healing      Luke 8: 43–48

Now there was a woman who had been suffering from haemorrhages for twelve years; and though she had spent all she had on physicians, no one could cure her. She came up behind Jesus and touched the fringe of his clothes, and immediately her haemorrhage stopped. Then Jesus asked, "Who touched me?" When all denied it, Peter said, "Master, the crowds surround you and press in on you." But Jesus said, "Someone touched me; for I noticed that power had gone out from me". When the woman saw that she could not remain hidden, she came trembling; and falling down before him, she declared in the presence of all the people why she had touched him, and how she had been immediately healed. He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has made you well; go in peace."

5. "I am the bread of life" John 6: 35–40

Jesus said to the crowd, "I am the bread of life. Whoever comes to me will never be hungry, and whoever believes in me will never be thirsty. But I said to you that you have seen me and yet do not believe. Everything that the Father gives me will come to me, and anyone who comes to me I will never drive away; for I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. This is indeed the will of my Father, that all who see the Son and believe in him may have eternal life; and I will raise them up on the last day."

Ministry with the Dying

Christian Ministry with the Dying is a natural continuation of the ministry of all care for God's people.

Bishop Jeremy Taylor wrote of the deeply interrelated tasks of holy living and holy dying: we should therefore remember that death might be considered an art to be learned throughout life. Death is not to be perceived as a defeat (as a careful reading of scripture will confirm). Indeed a Christian death might even be considered a kind of sacrament with plenary grace (Walter Pater, Marius the Epicurean).

Thus ministry to the dying takes place throughout all pastoral care, and is exercised in the life of prayer, confession and devotion. In confession and absolution we die to the pride of the old self, in love we die to fear, and in generosity we die to possessiveness. In the Christian life such deaths begin in baptism, when we die and rise again with Christ, so that our physical death is mirrored in our baptism and is thus the very opposite of defeat.

Care for the dying and preparation for death will normally have two points of focus, and they are deeply interrelated. There is the care for the dying person and the preparation of that person for the journey from one world into the next. There is also the care for those who watch and experience a sense of loss, often felt with a deadly and agonizing kind of desperate hope against hope that the death may be averted. Mourning frequently does not begin after the actual death, but starts long before, for example, in the case of dementia where normal human recognition and contact has long been lost. The "loss" of the loved one might long precede actual death.

Jeremy Taylor writes at length of the pastoral need for an exercise against despair in the day of our death. Very often the fear surrounding an impending death relates not so much to the terror of the unknown as to the workings of a conscience seeking forgiveness and reconciliation with God. Ministry to the dying should therefore be exercised in profound and loving honesty – which can be very hard. It is better to be frank when death is close (and the dying person frequently knows when this is better than anyone) and to allow space and make invitation for confession, using the structures of liturgical provision for absolution. Structuring – at what can be a very confused, messy, and emotionally charged time – is important and reassuring, and listening is often the most important component, even more than anything actually said.

In dying, each case is different and there can be no set pattern in the end, which is not to say that there should be no structure to the process. At the hour of death the concern is with healing of pain – physical, emotional, social, and spiritual – rather than cure (the pursuit of which may be a fruitless and even destructive distraction), and healing is possible even in death, consonant with the Christian hope of transformation at the moment of the journey from this world into the next.

The role of silence, as in all worship, may be crucial. Simply to be present, patiently, may be the most important role of the minister, and to give time after the event of a death for the family and friends to absorb the new situation. Mourning often begins long before a bereavement and may continue long afterwards, but to allow it a proper course is a crucial element in healing.

In conclusion, let us consider the closing words of Taylor in his work on Holy Dying, that no judgments be made:

Let us lay our hands upon our mouth, and adore the mysteries of the Divine wisdom and providence, and pray to God to give the dying rest and pardon, and to ourselves grace to live well, and the blessing of a holy and happy death (Jeremy Taylor, Rules and Exercise of Holy Dying, 1651).

|--|--|
| a) N. , our companion in faith and brother/sister in Christ, we entrust you to God. Go forth from this world: in the love of God who created you; in the mercy of Jesus Christ who died for you; in the power of the Holy Spirit who strengthens you, at one with all the faithful, living and departed. May you rest in peace and rise in the glory of your eternal home, where grief and misery are banished, and light and joy abide. | b) N. , go forth upon your journey from this world, in the name of God the Father almighty who created you; in the name of Jesus Christ who suffered death for you; in the name of the Holy Spirit who strengthens you; in communion with the blessed saints, and aided by angels and archangels, and all the armies of the heavenly host. May your portion this day be in peace, and your dwelling the heavenly Jerusalem. |

Amen.

Amen.

Then

Holy Lord, almighty and eternal God, hear our prayers as we entrust N. to you as you summon her/him out of this world. Forgive her/his sins and failings and grant her/him a haven of light, and peace. Let her/him pass unharmed through the gates of death to dwell with the blessed in light, as you promised to Abraham and his children for ever. Accept N. into your safe keeping and on the great day of judgement raise her/him up with all the saints to inherit your eternal kingdom. We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

(Common Worship)

After death has occurred, one of the following prayers may be said.

a) Merciful Saviour, we commend to you our brother/sister N.: acknowledge, we pray, a sheep of your own fold, a lamb of your own flock, a sinner of your own redeeming; receive her/him into the arms of your mercy, into the blessed rest of everlasting peace, and into the glorious company of the saints in light.

Amen. (American BCP)

b) Heavenly Father, into whose hands Jesus Christ commended his spirit at the last hour: into those same hands we now commend your servant N., that death may be for her/him the gate to life and to eternal fellowship with you; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen. (Common Worship)

Grant her/him eternal rest, O Lord.

And let perpetual light shine upon her/him.

May N. rest in peace.

And rise in glory.

Amen.

| 2. My own eyes have seen the salvation: which you have prepared in the sight of every people; | 2. For mine eyes have seen: thy salvation;  |
| 3. A light to reveal you to the nations: and the glory of your people Israel.                 | 3. Which thou hast prepared: before the face of all people.                         |

10 Additional Prayers

For those who mourn

Merciful God, whose Son Jesus wept at the death of Lazarus: look with compassion on all who are bound by sorrow and pain through the death of N. Comfort them, grant them the conviction that all things work together for good to those who love you, and help them to find sure trust and confidence in your resurrection power; through Jesus Christ our deliverer.

Amen.

Thanksgiving for the life of the departed

Merciful Father and Lord of all life, we praise you that we are made in your image and reflect your truth and light. We thank you for the life of your child N., for the love he/she received from you and showed among us. Above all, we rejoice at your gracious promise to all your servants, living and departed, that we shall rise again at the coming of Christ. And we ask that in due time we may share with our brother/sister that clearer vision, when we shall see your face in the same Christ our Lord.

Amen.

(Common Worship)

For healing and protection

Keep watch, dear Lord, with those who work, or watch, or weep this night, and give your angels charge over those who sleep. Tend the sick, Lord Christ; give rest to the weary, bless the dying, soothe the suffering, pity the afflicted, shield the joyous; and all for your love's sake.

Amen.

11 Blessing

One of the following blessings may be used.

May the eternal God bless and keep us, guard our bodies, save our souls and bring us safe to the heavenly country, our eternal home, where Father, Son and holy Spirit ever reign, one God for ever and ever.

your rod and your staff, they comfort me.

who trouble me;*
you have anointed my head with oil,
and my cup is running over .

set me upon the rock that is higher than I.

a strong tower against the enemy.

the maker of heaven and earth.

and he who watches over you will not fall asleep.

- 4 Behold, he who keeps watch over Israel*
shall neither slumber nor sleep;

the Lord is your shade at your right hand,
- 6 So that the sun shall not strike you by day,*
nor the moon by night.
- 7 The Lord shall preserve you from all evil;*
it is he who shall keep you safe.
- 8 The Lord shall watch over your going out and your coming in,*
from this time forth for evermore.

therefore you shall be feared.
- 4 I wait for the Lord; my soul waits for him;*
in his word is my hope.

- 5 My soul waits for the Lord,
more than watchmen for the morning,*
more than watchmen for the morning.

for with the Lord there is mercy;
- 7 With him there is plenteous redemption,*
and he shall redeem Israel from all their sins.

Psalm 139: 1–17

you know my sitting down and my rising up;
you discern my thoughts from afar.
- 2 You trace my journeys and my resting-places*
and are acquainted with all my ways.
- 3 Indeed, there is not a word on my lips,*
but you, O Lord, know it altogether.
- 4 You press upon me behind and before*
and lay your hand upon me.
- 5 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me;*
it is so high that I cannot attain to it.

- 6 Where can I go then from your Spirit?*
- where can I flee from your presence?
- 7 If I climb up to heaven, you are there;*
- if I make the grave my bed, you are there also.
- 8 If I take the wings of the morning*
- and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,
- 9 Even there your hand will lead me*
- and your right hand hold me fast.
- 10 If I say, 'Surely the darkness will cover me,*
- and the light around me turn to night,'
- 11 Darkness is not dark to you;
- the night is as bright as the day;*
- darkness and light to you are both alike.
- 12 For you yourself created my inmost parts;*
- you knit me together in my mother's womb.
- 13 I will thank you because I am marvellously made;*
- your works are wonderful, and I know it well.
- 14 My body was not hidden from you,*
- while I was being made in secret
- and woven in the depths of the earth.
- 15 Your eyes beheld my limbs, yet unfinished in the womb;
- all of them were written in your book;*
- they were fashioned day by day,
- when as yet there was none of them.

- 16 How deep I find your thoughts, O God!*
how great is the sum of them!
- 17 If I were to count them,
they would be more in number than the sand;*
to count them all, my life span would need to be like yours.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son,
and to the Holy Spirit;*
as it was in the beginning is now*
and shall be for ever.

Appendix II: Readings for use at Section 5

From the Old Testament

Isaiah 49: 14-16a                      I will not forget you

But Zion said, 'The Lord has forsaken me, my Lord has forgotten me.'
Can a woman forget her nursing-child, or show no compassion for the child of her womb?
Even these may forget,
yet I will not forget you.
See, I have inscribed you on the palms of my hands;
your walls are continually before me.

Isaiah 65: 17-20                      I am about to create new heavens and a new earth

For I am about to create new heavens and a new earth;
the former things shall not be remembered
or come to mind.
But be glad and rejoice for ever
in what I am creating;
for I am about to create Jerusalem as a joy,
and its people as a delight.
I will rejoice in Jerusalem,
and delight in my people;
no more shall the sound of weeping be heard in it,
or the cry of distress.
No more shall there be in it
an infant that lives but a few days, or an old person who does not live out a lifetime;
for one who dies at a hundred years will be considered a youth,
and one who falls short of a hundred will be considered accursed.

Psalm 23

The Lord is my Shepherd

- 1 The Lord is my shepherd;*
I shall not be in want.
- 2 He makes me lie down in green pastures*
and leads me beside still waters.
- 3 He revives my soul*
and guides me along right pathways for his name's sake.
- 4 Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I shall fear no evil;*
for you are with me;
your rod and your staff, they comfort me.
- 5 You spread a table before me in the presence of those
who trouble me;*
you have anointed my head with oil,
and my cup is running over .
- 6 Surely your goodness and mercy shall follow me
all the days of my life,* and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Psalm 103

Bless the Lord, O my soul

- 1 Bless the Lord, O my soul,*
and all that is within me, bless his holy name.
- 2 Bless the Lord, O my soul,*
and forget not all his benefits.
- 3 He forgives all your sins*
and heals all your infirmities;

- 4 He redeems your life from the grave*
and crowns you with mercy and loving-kindness;
- 5 He satisfies you with good things,*
and your youth is renewed like an eagle's .
- 6 The Lord executes righteousness*
and judgement for all who are oppressed.
- 7 He made his ways known to Moses*
and his works to the children of Israel.
- 8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercy,*
slow to anger and of great kindness.
- 9 He will not always accuse us,*
nor will he keep his anger for ever.
- 10 He has not dealt with us according to our sins,*
nor rewarded us according to our wickedness.
- 11 For as the heavens are high above the earth,*
so is his mercy great upon those who fear him.
- 12 As far as the east is from the west,*
so far has he removed our sins from us.
- 13 As a father cares for his children,*
so does the Lord care for those who fear him.
- 14 For he himself knows whereof we are made,*
he remembers that we are but dust.
- 15 Our days are like the grass;*

- we flourish like a flower of the field;
- 16 When the wind goes over it, it is gone,*
and its place shall know it no more.
- 17 But the merciful goodness of the Lord endures for ever on those who fear him,*
and his righteousness on children's children;
- 18 On those who keep his covenant*
and remember his commandments and do them.
- 19 The Lord has set his throne in heaven,*
and his kingship has dominion over all.
- 20 Bless the Lord, you angels of his,
you mighty ones who do his bidding,*
and hearken to the voice of his word.
- 21 Bless the Lord, all you his hosts,* you ministers of his who do his will.
- 22 Bless the Lord, all you works of his,
in all places of his dominion;*
bless the Lord, O my soul.

From the New Testament

Romans 6: 3-4, 8-11      Death no longer has dominion

Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? Therefore we have been buried with him by baptism into death, so that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, so we too might walk in newness of life. But if we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. We know that Christ, being raised from the dead, will never die again; death no longer has dominion over him.

The death he died, he died to sin, once for all; but the life he lives, he lives to God. So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus.

Romans 8: 35, 38-39      Who will separate us from the love of Christ?

Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Will hardship, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

1 Corinthians 15: 51-58      I will tell you a mystery!

Listen, I will tell you a mystery! We will not all die, but we will all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. For this perishable body must put on imperishability, and this mortal body must put on immortality. When this perishable body puts on imperishability, and this mortal body puts on immortality, then the saying that is written will be fulfilled:

‘Death has been swallowed up in victory.’

‘Where, O death, is your victory?

Where, O death, is your sting?’

The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Therefore, my beloved, be steadfast, immovable, always excelling in the work of the Lord, because you know that in the Lord your labour is not in vain.

From the Gospels

John 14: 1-3

In my Father's house

Jesus said, 'Do not let your hearts be troubled. Believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house there are many dwelling-places. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, so that where I am, there you may be also.'
